Writing Intent

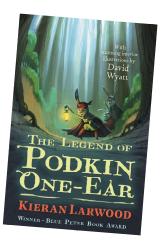

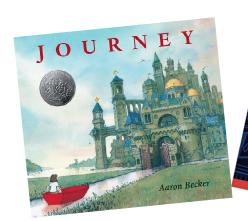

Through high quality teaching of writing at Northmead, we strive to develop our learners into articulate and imaginative communicators who speak, read, and write fluently.

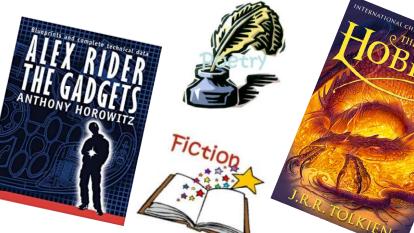

While exploring non-fiction, fiction, and poetry units, we aim to ensure all our children develop a love of language and the written word, through a text-based approach.

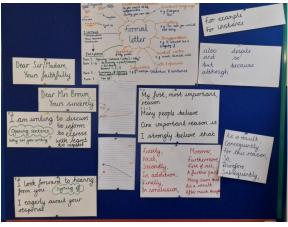

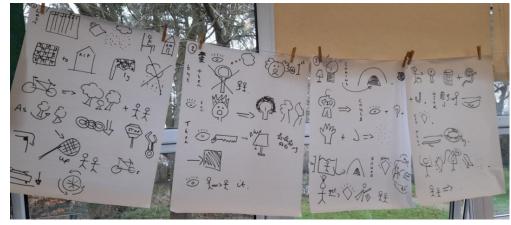

We use elements from 'Talk for Writing' in our non-fiction units, as this approach enables children to imitate the language they need for a particular topic, before writing their own version.

In each unit of literacy, immersion in reading, and talk and preparation for writing, are developed through three key stages: imitation, innovation and independent application

We ensure that children develop an understanding of how important writing is in everyday life and they are provided with many opportunities to develop and apply their writing skills across the curriculum.
